CANTON CONTESTS.

The Chevaliers Do Some Good Drilling.

AN ENORMOUS ATTENDANCE.

San Francisco and Oakland Run a Neck and Neck Race for the Grand Trophy.

The drill competition of the Cantons comprising the Second Regiment of California, at the Academy of Music last night, attracted an audience to that building that filled it to its utmost capacity. The ground floor was arranged by seats in the form of a square, the area being left blank for the evolutions of the different troops. By 8 o'clock, the hour set for the commencement of the proceedings, the scene within the building was a very striking one. The glittering uniforms of the Chevaliers contrasted strongly with the raiment of their more sober-clad brethren, and judging by the toilettes of the ladies the "upper crust" of Los Angeles society was in attendance. On the stage was quartered Meine's band and the officers of the evening, the rest of the seating accommodations being occupied by prominent residents of the city. In the center of the platform, resting on a table that could be easily seen from all parts of the hall, were the prizes, which were to be awarded as follows:

1st. For the best dress parade by regiment—One pair of regimental guidon flags.

2nd. For the best drilled Cantons in movements as per schedule in Grand Order No. 11—The possession of the Grand Encampment Trophy for one year, or until won by some other Canton in contest at Annual Cantonment.

3d. For the second best drilled Canton in contest—An elegant swinging water pitcher and cups, for use of Canton in armory.

4th. For the Canton with the greatest number of Chevaliers in line at grand parade on the 18th of September in Los Angeles—An elegant drum stand for Canton use.

5th. For the best equipped Canton—An elegant drum and stand for Canton use.

6th. For Canton with largest per cent of members present, and coming over 100 miles—An elegant bugle for Canton use.

7th. For Canton with greatest number present and coming over 100 miles—An elegant bugle for Canton use.

8th, 9th, 10th. For the three officers drilling the Canton in contest that wins the Grand Encampment Trophy—1st, 2d and 3d jewels of Decoration of Chivalry, respectively.

11th, 12th and 13th. For the three best drilled commissioned officers in manual of sword and marching—1st, 2d and 3d jewels of Decoration of Chivalry, respectively.

14th, 15th and 16th. For the three best drilled Chevaliers (not commissioned officers) in the manual of sword and marching—1st, 2d and 3d jewels of Decoration of Chivalry, respectively.

In addition to the above prizes an elegant dressing case for gentlemen, designated the Litchfield prize, and donated by J. M. Litchfield & Co., of San Francisco, was offered to the best drilled commissioned officer present, and a member in good standing of a Canton in this Grand Department, who may complete in the officer's individual contest.

There was also a solid silver cup, called the Vandersice prize, and donated by Vandersice & Co., of San Francisco, for the best drilled Chevalier and not commissioned officer who will enter the contests.

The judges of the contest were Lieut. Reber, aide-de-camp on General Miles' staff, Major H. M. Russell, and Maj. S. S. Butler, Adjutant-General of the 1st Brigade, N. G. C. The cantons entered for competition were San Francisco No. 5, San Bernardino No 17, San Diego No. 22. Sacramento No. 1 and Oakland No. 11. The grand trophy which was the principal object of rivalry is offered for annual competition, this being its third appearance. On the first occasion it was won by Vallejo Canton, and on the second by Oakland, who were the holders at the opening of last night's competition.

Brigadier-General Russell, commanding the Department of the Pacific, acted as master of ceremonies, and after a few selections had been played by the orchestra called on the San Bernardino Canton to OPEN THE ENTERTAINMENT.

They came marching in, fourteen in number, under the command of Col. E. H. Black, and it was soon evident that a picked body of men was present. They went through the fifty-two movements (given in yesterday's HERALD) in faultless style, and the precision of their actions evoked hearty applause from the admiring onlookers. The most difficult changes were made with a natural swing that must have cost lots of practice, one particularly fine movement being the oblique to the right and then marching to their original front. They occupied the floor for about 25 minutes, and when they retired the knowing ones said that the prospects for San Francisco gaining the trophy were remarkably good. The sound of a bugle brought the San Bernardino Canton on the floor, their numbers being the same as the preceding contingent. They did very well at first but made one or two breaks later on, thus wrecking their prospects of getting the first prize. Next came the San Diego Canton, also numbering fourteen in the rank and file, and though they did some of the movements very well, yet in others they broke badly. An explanation was offered after they had retired, however, by Colonel Black, who said that the San Diego Canton had labored under great disadvantages. In the first place their Captain, Douglass Gunn, had been ill in bed for several weeks, and was even then scarcely well enough to carry out the fatigue of the evening. And secondly, the San Diego Canton was a new one and had never drilled together with the schedule before Tuesday last, this being their fourth work together. "They did not expect to win," said Colonel Black, "but only entered to make the competition better, and I think that under the circumstances they are deserving of great credit."

His auditors thought so too, for the applause which followed was both deafening and prolonged, and had the San Diego Canton been marched on the floor again they would have been tendered an ovation far outrivaling that accorded to any of the others.

The Sacramento Canton came next, eighteen strong, under the command of Captain Sherburn. Far a time it looked as if they would equal the performance given by the San Franciscans, but one or two breaks in the second part of the programme greatly hurt their prospects. Every one was in a fever of expectancy when the Oakland boys, commanded by Captain H. Cole, marched in for they claim to be the crack team of the State and were determined to do their best to retain the trophy. They gave a splendid performance, impaired a little somewhat by one or two mishaps, but taken on the whole it looked like a neck and neck race between them and San Francisco for the first prize. The announcement was then made that the Marion, Ind., Canton would give an exhibitive non-competitive drill, Captain Gunter explaining that it was not to show themselves off, but simply in response to a general desire for them to take the floor. Their masterly movements have already been commented on at length in these columns and their performance last night worthily added to their former successes. Then came the competition for officers, each one being drilled separately, and for this appeared Capt. Albert J. Cory, of Selma No. 24; Capt. W. S. Potter, of Canton San Francisco No. 5, and Lieutenant Fred Fillmore, of Canton San Francisco No. 5. Their performances were all good and won them considerable applause, and when they had retired it was a hard matter for an outsider to guess which would be declared the victor.

The next on the programme was the single drills of Chevaliers, but as the hour was too late these were postponed until this morning. The following are the competitors: A. S. Ward, D. A. Price, W. B. Clayton, Andrew Weber, G. T. Burtchaell, Wm. Chalmers and M. MacKenzie, all of Oakland No. 11; John Thompson, of San Francisco No. 5, and James Penner, F. J. Sparling and E. J. Clark, of San Diego No. 22. The awarding of the prizes was also held over, the arrangements being announced as follows:

At 10 o'clock this morning the competitive drills of the Chevaliers will be continued on the encampment grounds, and at 5 o'clock this evening the prizes will be awarded at the same place. After a final statement to the effect that Meine's band would give a promenade concert from 3 to 5 this afternoon in the Sixth street park, the officers of the evening arose and the festivities were over.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Great Success at the Grand Opera House.

The assembly at the Grand last night was the largest and most brilliant of the week. Mr. Palmer's company grows upon the play-goers of the city the more they are seen. It was a repeat of Jim, the Penman, which many pressed in to see the second time.

To-night a new play will be presented. It is Partners, by the author of Saints and Sinners, which took so enthusiastically on Tuesday night.

Horse Taming.

Prof. John McKeown, who comes to Los Angeles with a well-filled scrapbook of his exploits with wild and vicious horses opened his exhibition last evening three doors above the Panorama building. A large audience greeted the Professor upon being introduced by Carl Browne of the Cactus. His skill in handling the subjects brought him of shying, runaway and kicking horses was highly appreciated by the audience. To-night he will drive a horse whose owner says never has been driven single before. He will also handle bucking and vicious horses.

ANOTHER REFUSAL.

Mr. McComas Will Not Meet His Opponent.

On September 11th the following letter was addressed to the Republican County Committee:

DEAR SIRS:—I have received a communication from Victor Montgomery, Esq., Democratic nominee for State Senator from the Thirty-ninth District, in which he states that he has requested Mr. McComas, his opponent in that District, to meet him in joint debate to discuss upon the stump the issues that now devide the two great parties. In reply to this Mr. McComas has stated that the Republican County Central Committee has taken up all his time, and he therefore declines the kind invitation sent by Mr. Montgomery. In behalf of Mr. Montgomery, he desires me to request you to relieve him of whatever responsibilities he might have with your committee so that this joint discussion may take place. I trust that you will use your good offices for the purpose of bringing about this discussion, which I believe would be very interesting to the voters of said district. I am very respectfully yours, EUGENE GERMAIN,
Chairman Democratic County Central Committee.

By R. A. LING, Chairman Committee on Speakers.

To this letter the following reply has been received by Judge R. A. Ling:

DEAR SIR—Your communication with reference to a joint debate between Mr. McComas and Mr. Montgomery was read before the Executive Committee of our Committee on Saturday last, and I was then instructed to inform your Committee that we had already made our arrangements for meetings during the rest of the campaign at which it will be necessary for Mr. McComas to be present, and that, in consequence, we must decline your request. Respectfully,
C. W. PENDLETON, Secretary.

Interesting Meeting of the Police Commissioners.

SEVERAL LICENSES CONSIDERED.

Promotion of a Gallant and Deserving Officer—A Suit for Libel.

The august body of Police Commissioners met yesterday afternoon at the Mayor's office, it being their stated conclave. There were present Mayor Workman in the chair and Chief Cuddy and President of the Council Humphreys.

The business of saloons was first disposed of. The revocation of the license of Layton, at 59 Los Angeles street, was rescinded for one month's time. The complaint against one Faucher, who keeps the White Elephant saloon, opposite the new depot, was exploited. It is claimed that it is a disreputable place. Mr. Pridham, Assistant Superintendent Wells-Fargo Company, testified that it is a dangerous and disorderly place, frequented by thieves and such like persons, in fact a veritable "lushing ken." It was finally decided that Mr. Fancher be notified to appear before the Board at its next regular meeting.

The Mayor offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"In view of the large class of vicious men known to be vagrants, disreputable characters of the class known as "Macs," and also confidence men, now in our city, the Chief of Police is hereby directed to at once detail Officers Auble, Bosqui and Hawley to as soon as possible, in person, notify all persons of the class designated to leave the city within three days, as the law against such characters will hereafter be rigidly enforced.

The attention of county officers are respectfully but earnestly called to these evils, and asked to give us aid in this matter as is in their power under the State laws."

Louis Ackerman, owning a saloon at 44 Alameda street was allowed to continue business, providing he will not sell stuff to children or harbor women. Jacob Atloff made application for license for a saloon at the northeast corner of Seventh and Main.

A Mr. E. R. Williams preferred charges against star No. 59. The charges were quite serious against the officer. Dan Leahy was chasing Mr. Barnett McGinley around and about the corner of Alameda and First streets, and the officer there was direlict in his duty. The officer was cited to appear before the Board.

The following change was granted: John O. Leary, 630 San Fernando street in place of Welch now there. Gottleft & Schmidt, 228 West Seventh street petitioned for a license which was postponed one week. Action upon the petition of Fritz Wananeke, 380 East First street, was postponed one week. The petition for license made by Legri & Frosat, 148 Upper Main street, was laid over for one week.

The fruitgrowers of the district bounded by Washington, San Pedro, Jefferson and Alameda streets petitioned for mounted police to protect their orchards from thieves and depredators. The Chief reported that he had two specials at the district, but that two mounted officers were needed there. Referred to the Chief.

The Golden Tea Store, 260 South Spring street, is permitted to have a light in front of store, to be erected under the direction of the Chief.

Thaddeus W. Roe wanted to be made special policeman on Boyle Heights. Action postponed.

An application for a novel advertising chariot was receive wherein it was set forth that music in the form of an orchestrion would soothe the breasts of the savages of this sun-kissed land. Longberg and Company, the applicants, were referred to the Street Superintendent.

Officer John S. Flickner tendered his resignation; also Edward McCullough and Daniel Lynch. All the resignations were accepted.

The Chief made this explanation regarding the discharge of Officer Van Luven. He had been taking the place of an absent officer as a special, and upon the return of that officer his services were no longer required. The public had been led to believe that he had been relieved of his star for other causes.

J. B. Pierce and William Pendergast made applications for positions on the force. Filed.

Officer Van Luven was put on the force as a special.

William T. Gilbert was appointed a special officer without pay.

M. W. Dodd still wants his property, at the corner of Turner and Alameda streets, to be occupied by the gay maidens who abound there. He thinks no discrimination should be used against his tenants when others of the same kind in the vicinity are let alone. He charged that Cora Phillips influences the officers of the law to raid his tenants. (Chief Cuddy here interrupted Mr. Dodd and requested that he keep on the side of truth and not mislead the Board). Mr. Dodd says he cannot let his houses to reputable parties because of the surroundings. He would be glad to let his houses to proper persons.

Mr. Humphreys thought that there should be no discrimination shown. The matter was cut short by the adjournment of the Board.

A Worthy Promotion.

News was received by wire at the Army Headquarters yesterday that Captain Henry W. Lawton, Fourth Cavalry, had been appointed Major and Inspector-General of the army, and his nomination was presented yesterday to the Senate for confirmation. Captain Lawton was a hero of the Geronimo campaign, and his host of friends in South California and elsewhere will be glad to learn of the gallant Captain's promotion.

A Libel Suit.

The suit of General H. H. Bovce against the Times-Mirror Publishing Company for $50,000 damages for libel is on trial before Judge O'Melveny and a jury. The plaintiff claims damages on account of an article published in the Times, and introduced evidence to show that it had been published in that paper. The defense then started to prove the truth of the article, and was in the midst of the examination of one C. J. Richards when the case was continued until this morning.

REOPENED.

The University of Southern California.

The University of Southern California opened its fall term yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The Chapel was full to overflowing, a larger number of new students being in attendance than at any previous term in the history of the school.

After appropriate singing Rev. Will A. Knighten, of Grace Church, Los Angeles, opened the services by prayer. Bishop Bowman was then introduced and addressed the students in a most gratifying manner. He could not have delighted the young people more than by relating the history of his own school days. It was highly appreciated, as was shown by vigorous clapping of hands. Before entering the Wilbraham Academy, Mass., he had fallen into the habit of playing cards. His parents reproving him, the cards were consigned to the flames. On being advised, his father sent him to the above named school, as nearly all students who attended there were converted. The journey of 300 miles, in the old stage coach, was made in one week, where now it could be made in twelve hours. The relation of his first attempt at declaimation, his writing to his father to be released from speaking pieces, was humorous in the extreme. His father made one thing very emphatic, telling him to avoid one great blunder and be sure and take a full course. He did not awake to the importance of this till under the influence of Prof. Larabee, at Cazenova, after he had wasted nearly a whole year. He immediately wrote his father, telling him he would relinquish all claim to any part of the estate if he would give his consent to a full college course. His advice will doubtless be a turning point in the history of more than one wavering student. Knowledge is not the only object to be attained in college. When a student acquires mental discipline, when he learns to think, to grapple with difficult problems, then is success certain.

He closed with a strong appeal to the students to make the discipline of the moral man of greater moment than the intellectual. Not an hour should be lost until the student had yielded his heart to Christ.

President Bovard followed in the same strain. Some of his own experiences he made exceedingly interesting. He, too, had entered college on a limited time and course. It was the Bishop, who was then President of the Indiana Asbury University, that started him in the right channel. He went through, but came out $1,000 in debt. Kind friends loaned him money which he scorned to accept as a gift. He warned students against this folly. Better be more slow, take plenty of time and dig their way through. When he closed the Bishop supplemented his speech by enforcing this important warning.

The following letter will be read with interest by many in this vicinity:

ON THE TRAIN TO MINNEAPOLIS.

As we journey Eastward our hearts go back to you and to the pleasant surprise you gave us at the hospitable residence of Rev. R. M. Beach. It seems but idle words for me to try to express to you our heart-felt thanks for your many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy while living in your midst. May many more strangers coming among you feel this warm glow of your Christian influence. We ask still to be remembered by you, deeming it an honor to have a place in the hearts of such a people. We will try to show the same spirit towards others as you have towards us, for this is the leaven that shall leaven the lump; this is the fruit of the good and true; this is the true spirit of the Master. The interests of the university, church and Sunday school shall still be ours; and the sweet intercourse enjoyed with you during our acquaintance will be among our richest treasures. Most humbly yours,

MR. AND MRS. H. W. KING.

The corner-stone laying announced for yesterday, of the Freeman College of the University of Southern California, at Inglewood, has been postponed till Monday at 11 o'clock, as cars could not be secured. There will be ample room for all on Monday.

DAMAGES WANTED.

Three Suits for Injuries Received in Various Ways.

Frederick Muller brought an action yesterday against Nicholas A. Covarrubias for $20,000 damages, on complaint that on November 5, 1887, while passing along Main street, opposite Santa Fe avenue, in pursuit of his lawful business, a horse in harness belonging to defendant, through the negligence of his owner, came running along loose and uncontrol led in said street, and there and then violently ran against the plaintiff, knocking him down and trampling on his body with his four feet, which were shod with iron shoes; that the plaintiff was thereby greatly injured, crushed and bruised, jammed and made senseless, sick and sore, and parts of his body broken and fractured, and was nearly killed, and was permanently injured in body; that he was thereby rendered incapable of performing his ordinary work and business, and of earning his support and maintenance; that he is permanently incapacitated for performing the labor upon which himself and wife depended for support. In consideration of all these things, and of the great pain of mind and body that plaintiff has suffered, he feels himself entitled to ask for $20,000 damages and costs.

Philippi Geoffrai bring action against the Los Angeles Cable Railway Company for $25,200 and costs of suit, on complaint that plaintiff on the night of August 14, 1888, fell into an excavation made by defendant company on Upper Main street, carelessly left open by defendants in the construction of a cable road; in consequence of which plaintiff had his right arm broken in two places, and has been confined to his room for many days, and has been compelled to pay a doctor bill of $200.

Sofia Silven commenced suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to recover $25,000 damages received and for $965 expenses. He alleges that at the junction of Alameda and Jackson streets he was run over on December 17, 1887, and two of his toes cut off. For this injury he asks the above sum.

New Suits.

H. G. Wilshire vs. Albert J. Chaffee, administrator of the estate of Charles B. Hitchcock, deceased, et al.—Complaint for strict foreclosure of contract to convey land; the property involved being: Lots 5 and 7 in block 105, town of Long Beach, consideration being $2000, of which amount one-half is alleged to be due plaintiff at this time.

Murphy, Grant & Co. vs. William H. Nash, et al.—Complaint on promissory note for $1494.10, interest, costs, etc.

Gertrude Morillo de Perrett vs. the city of Los Angeles—To quit title to the lot at the northeast corner of Spring and Third streets, in which defendant claims an interest adverse to plaintiff's title.

HOLLYWOOD!
The beautiful foothill suburb of Los Angeles at Cahuenga Pass is higher than the highest point in the city. This most lovely spot is situated six miles west of Los Angeles in the frostless belt. It possesses the finest soil in the world—nothing equal to it elsewhere. It will grow successfully the most delicate flower or tender plant in midwinter, without irrigation; in fact, we never irrigate this foothill land. It does not require it. It is a very healthy location. No malaria, but little fog, pure, unmolested ocean breeze every day in the year. Pure, soft water. Therefore no more healthy location can be found anywhere. Fine view of ocean vessels, city, valley and mountain. We defy competition in all of the advantages that go to make A DESIRABLE SPOT FOR A HOME! It cannot be beat. Yes, it cannot be equaled. I know this is saying a great deal. I am willing to stake my reputation on what I say. I am residing at Hollywood, and intend to make it our permanent home. A number of fine buildings are now being built at this point. Water is being piped. Cement sidewalks are being put down. The Cahuenga Valley Railroad is finished to this place, and six trains each way are now running on this road. See time table. This railroad is running in connection with the Second-street Cable. Half-fare tickets will be sold to persons residing at Hollywood, thus affording splendid connection with the city. The Los Angeles County Railroad will soon be completed and running to this place.

HOLLYWOOD
Is now for the first time offered for sale, at low prices and easy terms, in quantities to suit purchasers. Special inducements will be offered to persons making valuable improvements, until a certain number of fine houses are secured. After that is done, then land and lots at this point will be held firm for what they are really worth. There is from 6 to 7 acres in a block, and nearly a half acre in a lot. Ask any old citizen of Los Angeles about this location, and then call on me at Hollywood, or WILCOX & SHAW, 34 North Spring street, or on any good reliable real estate firm in Los Angeles, all of whom are hereby authorized to act as my agents.

THE ODD FELLOWS.

A Pleasant Excursion to Pasadena.

AFFAIRS AT CAMP LOS ANGELES.

The Art Gallery at the Fair. Recent Entries of Exhibits. Other News.

The Odd Fellows were astir early yesterday morning so as to be in time for the excursion to Pasadena at 8 o'clock, and the camp presented a very deserted appearance at that time for, with the exception of the Second Regiment who had to stay and practice for the competition drill in the evening, nearly every one had proceeded to the First-street depot. The Santa Fe Company had made extra accommodations on the regular train, but from the first it was to be seen that there would not be enough coaches to supply the rush and an announcement was made that a special train would be dispatched two hours later. This divided up the excursionists into two parties, and when the ten cars of the special were filled it was found that there were over 1,000 all told. The journey to Pasadena was much enjoyed, inasmuch as the visitors on the occasion of their incoming to the city had traversed that section after nightfall and consequently had a very limited view of the surrounding country. They made up for it, however, for endless were the queries that they asked regarding the beautiful panorama through which they were whirled, and loud and many were the comments of admiration at what was seen. A fairer day could not have been selected for such an excursion. The sun was shining brightly and the atmosphere was not laden with that enervating heat that distinguished the early part of the week. "There is no doubt at all," said one observer, "but that this is one of the finest residence localities in the world, and the day will come when every hill and glen will be occupied by some person glad to take advantage of these bounteous gifts that nature offers." When Pasadena was sighted it was seen that the depot was thronged with welcomers, and they gave a ringing cheer as the train slowly pulled up. A citizens' reception committee, composed of the leading business men of the town, were among the many who gathered around the excursionists, and they announced that the programme of the day would open with exercises in the tabernacle. A procession was accordingly formed and marched to the place indicated, which was already well filled with eager residents anxious to participate in the proceedings.

THE CEREMONIES OPENED

With an address of welcome by Mr. H. F. Vail, editor of the Pasadena Star. He referred to the pleasure that it gave the citizens of the "Crown of the Foothills" to welcome into their midst the representatives of the grandest organization in the world, and in offering them the hospitality of the city gave assurance that the doors of every home were open to the strangers.

Past Grand Master Shennon, of Kansas, made a fitting response. Speaking of the hospitality with which the Odd Fellows had been received, he said that it was boundless, and that to their Eastern homes they would carry the news that the Californians were as bountiful in social life as they were prosperous in worldly goods.

Lieutenant Colonel Norman, of Colorado, and Major William J. Fay followed in the same strain, and an adjournment was then taken to the banquet hall, where luncheon was to be served. The repast was given in the newly finished Frost Block, two of the large storerooms having been handsomely decorated for the purpose by the ladies of the Order of Rebekah dwelling in Pasadena. For an exemplification of culinary skill the meal could not be surpassed. The menu, which was an elaborate one, consisted of everything that could be found in the well stocked markets of Southern California, and that it was enjoyed goes beyond doubt. At its conclusion a long string of carriages which had been waiting without were pointed to by the Reception Committee and an invitation was extended to all to enter and partake of a drive about the city. The Committee of reception was divided into different detachments for the purpose of furnishing explanatory information, and then a start was made up Colorado street, the principal business thoroughfare of the town. Pasadena was not behind in her decorations, and "Welcome" and the omnipresent three links met the eye in every direction. The route selected was through the residence part of the city and the various architectural beauties were pointed out with pride by the citizens. Much astonishment was expressed at the presence of so many palatial dwelling houses and the beauty of their surroundings, nestling as they did in groves of orange trees gave a very pleasing effect. By the many inquiries made as to the price of land and house property it is probable that Pasadena will reap a reward for her hospitality by an influx of new settlers, for, although, as some of the pleasure-seekers observed, the figures asked were "a little high," it was doubtless worth it. The Raymond was, of course, driven to and necessarily admired. A very fine view was obtainable owing to the clearness of the atmosphere and several minutes were passed admiring the surroundings. At half past three the horses' heads were turned toward the depot, for at 4 P. M. the train homeward bound was to start, and during that last half hour the tourists uttered their thanks to their hosts for the princely manner in which they had been entertained. By a quarter to five Los Angeles was reached and with pleasant reminiscences of their day's outing the pleasure party retired to remove the dust of their day's travels and prepared for the evening's entertainment.

The Fair.

The results of hard work and organized co-operation are showing themselves in admirable fashion at the Pomological Fair at the Pavilion. Yesterday was really the first day of the fair as a large number of the exhibits had not been put in place on Tuesday, and the process of arranging the new entries caused no small confusion. All the expected entries have not been made yet, but those which arrive hereafter will find not much space left for their display. Mr. B. A. Stevens, the entry clerk, was busy noting the names of exhibitors until a late hour last night, and if anyone offered to-day they will be recommended to the notice of the judges without being regularly entered.

The Santa Barbara exhibit was unpacked and put in place yesterday morning and proves to be a collection of fruit and vegetables in every way worthy of the channel city. Two other exhibits which were not arranged until yesterday and which make a good showing are the Glendora at the El Modena. The latter is very tastefully arranged. The Westminster people have sent in a quantity of fruit and vegetables, which have been placed at the front end of the hall, some on one side and some on the other. The Downey exhibit is on the left hand side of the hall and occupies a long stretch of the wide table. Having so recently been in the fair business herself, Downey was well "heeled" for the occasion. Several more booths appear around the outside of the aisle. The Kenilworth Ostrich Farm has a place in which a number of their feathers are exhibited and the process of curling illustrated. E. D. Sturtevant, of Bordenstown, N. J., the grower of ostriches and varieties in the flower line has a large tank in which are a number of choice specimens from his branch garden at Edgemont. Several stands supply candy and soda water and the W. C. T. U. give a very good plate of ice cream, fruit and home made cake, all for fifteen cents. Their location is up stairs.

The art exhibit is larger and better than any collection of work of local talent which was ever offered to the public of Los Angeles. The art room is to the right as one enters the building, and has an excellent light from the front windows for the display of its exhibit. A large part of the really good work in the collection has been done by J. H. Lewis, of Sierra Madre. Two pieces of mountain scenery, "The Last Gleam on Rose Peak" and "A Storm at Sierra Madre," are suggestive of Bierstadt in firmness of outline and strength of color. A view in Sespe cañon and another on Baldwin's ranch show what Mr. Lewis can do with scenery of another type. Perhaps the best piece of work which his collection offers is "A Young Turk's Head," which is peculiarly happy in expression and coloring. The portrait of Abbot Kinney presents an admirable counterfeit presentment of that eminent tariff reformer. Mr. Lewis' collection as a whole would do credit to a much older city and a more extensive exhibit.

Mrs. Dolton Bond has two pictures in the collection of more than ordinary merit. One of these is the head of an old man. It is a life-size figure, admirable in its fineness and strength. The other is a pastel, the head of ot a young girl, which has a Watteau-like softness and delicacy. Miss Helen E. Coan has one of the best studies in the room—a head of a lady done in oils, perfect in its smoothness of finish.

There are several pieces bearing the name of H. Ivey which show good conception. They are rather of the impressionist type—water colors of exceptional excellence. The cañon scene is a study of foliage effects. The china panel work of T. W. Pakes, of Pasadena, is good, as is also the man and donkey of W. S. Maxwell. Ronco Rerra has a number of pieces brilliant in their coloring and bizarre in conception. Some flowers by Mrs. E. B. Melchior, a street scene by Miss Fannie Duval, some landscapes by Mrs. B. M. Potter, and a view of the Santa Barbara Mission by Miss L. E. Gorden are worthy of mention.

The Photogravure Company of Chicago have an exhibit of their work, which has the unusual advantage of being artistic and yet cheap. It is the best form of copying photographs yet devised. At one end of the room Kan Koo has a large exhibit tastefully arranged, and Henry Bohrmann exhibits a finely carved hat tree and a fine mantel.

In the woman's department will be found a quantity of artistic embroidery and several paintings by Mrs. Lu Wheat Smith. The Chums is a good conception fairly executed.

The building was filled yesterday with crowds coming and going. The main floor was occupied from early in the morning by various squads of the Patriarchs Militant practicing for the competitive drill which came off in the evening. The Orange band took the stage and entertained the visitors with music throughout the day.

To-day the Protestant Orphan Asylum will visit the Pavilion and be treated to ice-cream. On Friday at 2 P. M. the baby show will take place. Thus far there have been only eight entries for the elegant baby buggy which Heywood Brothers, of Upper Main street, have donated for the lucky winner. The judges will get to work to-day, but their decision will not be rendered until the fair is about to close. The additional entries are as follows:

Miss Mabel J. Doan, Los Angeles, embroidery outline.

Camp Los Angeles.

The Camp was all but deserted yesterday, as the gallant Officers and Chevaliers were away sight-seeing; some at San Diego, many at Pasadena, and others at San Pedro and Santa Monica. Visitors to the Camp missed the reverberating shibboleth of the Chevaliers—"What's the matter with our Canton? Nothing, you bet!" or "What's the matter with Los Angeles? Nothing, you BET!"

But as the time drew near for the dress parade, at the hour of 5, the quiet was broken and the Camp was brilliant with glittering uniforms and the attractive costumes of visiting lady friends and relatives. The Innocents, the Lambs and the Beauties held open doors, and song and music enlivened the gay assemblage. At 5:30 the bugle of the Pasadena band announced the parade, and in a moment after the Second Regiment of California filed by battalions on to the parade ground. The officers in command were:

Colonel E. H. Black, San Francisco; Lieutenant-Colonel C. F. Freitag, San Jose.

First Battalion—Grand Canton, San Francisco, No. 2; Component No. 5, Captain W. S. Potter; Component No. 19, Captain W. L. Hodgkins: Canton Eschole, No. 13, St. Helena, Captain H. W. Lyman; Canton Vallejo, No. 16, Captain O. L. Henderson.

Second Battalion—Major Andrew D. Smith, Oakland; Canton San Jose, No. 9, Captain L. K. Robert; Canton Santa Clara, No. 10, Captain Robert B. Roll; Canton Oakland, No. 11, Captain L. L. Bromwell.

Third Battalion—Major W. O. Burr, Los Angeles; Canton Orion, No. 12, Captain W. P. Schlosser, Los Angeles; Canton San Bernardino, No. 17, Captain I. Benjamin; Canton Veritas, No. 21, Salinas, Captain O. Cayer.

It was the universal expression that this dress parade bore off the honors of the week and Sergeant-Major Longley was congratulated for the soldierly way in which he handled the regiment.

The prizes for the competitive drill, which took place last evening, were the center of attraction all day long and deservedly so. They are both beautiful and valuable. They will be bestowed to-night at the Pavilion.

After the dress parade the celebrated Marion Canton, the prize drillists of the Union, gave an exhibition drill and their movements was so perfect that at every point they were the recipients of unbounded applause.

To-day will be a gala one at the Camp. The Innocents will go to Santa Monica, but will return in time for their grand reception which takes place in the evening. It will be a public affair and all are cordially invited with special regard for the gentler sex. Music and mirth and song will fill out the programme. The Kidds will be there also and Chevaliers Longley, Secor, Smith and Burris.

To-night the Drum and Bugle Corps of Denver will give an entertainment at Armory Hall. Major Mershon promises an unique and splendid programme.

The Riverside and San Diego contingents were receiving at their headquarters yesterday, and were as happy and joyous as larks. They are enthusiastic over the good time they are having, and say all sorts of good things about Los Angeles. The Riverside Canton is the "baby" Canton of the State, and yet on the day of the parade it was the largest in number.

Notes.

Grand Representatives, Colonel E. B. Moore, of Batesville, and J. Friedheim, of Camden, and both from Arkansas, are among the notables met at the camp.

W. H. Sherburn, Senior-Captain, and J. C. Moore, Junior-Captain, of the Sacramento Grand Canton, have a well-filled tent of visitors from morn till night and believe in South California and its abundant hospitality.

There are many also who think well of the wines of South California. In this warm spell the red wine of the section is good to have, and the apostrophe at the camp is:

Thou mak'st our blood so pure and strong,
Run sparkling like a river,
Upon h a tongue thou pour'st the song,
Who silent blest the giver.
Thou art the king of wines so true,
Thou art the very heaven's dew,
Well may'st thou speed forever.

Thanks Returned.

The following letter has been forwarded to T. J. Nicholson, General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad:

"The Odd Fellows and excursionists from Colorado en route to Los Angeles, Cal., to attend the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., over the great Santa Fe Railroad, appointed a committee to express their appreciation of the many courtesies extended to them during their transit, which presented the following, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, In behalf of the Odd Fellows and citizen excursionists from Colorado to California, with mingled feeling of pride and pleasure, we express our most grateful appreciation of the courtesies extended to us by the management of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad through all its officials, especially to Col. W. H. Pond, Traveling Passenger Agent, and Mr. Otto Fass, in charge of our section, and all employees. We commend the management as of the highest order, the commissary department as exemplified by their luxuriantly appointed eating houses as first-class, and the road, as a whole, one of the most desirable to the traveler who wishes to avail himself of rapid, comfortable transit to or from the Pacific Coast. To the Odd Fellows en route, especially of Las Vegas and Albuquerque, New Mexico, and of Riverside and Los Angeles, California, for their hospitality and generous ministry to our comfort and we also desire to express our earnest thanks; these various attentions all contributing to make our excursion one grand ovation from Denver to Los Angeles.

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be handed to General Passenger Agent Nicholson, to the Press of Los Angeles, for publication and to the representative of the jurisdiction of New Mexica to the S. G. L., with a request that he embody them in his report. C. D. Cobb, J. M. Norman, H. C. McCreery, I. N. Rogers, Louis Williams, W. T. Fairfax, Dr. N. G. Burnham.

Courtesies Exchanged.

Brigadier-General Nelson A. Miles, of the United States Army, called in an official capacity upon Lieutenant-General Underwood, of the Patriarchs Militant. This is the first time in the history of the order that the head of the military division of the Odd Fellows has received an official call from the head of a military division of the United States. Yesterday afternoon Lieutenant General Underwood, accompanied by his staff, returned the call and visited General Miles at the United States headquarters.

The City's Guests.

The visiting Odd Fellows are enjoying their stay in Los Angeles to the utmost. Yesterday at least ten thousand people went out to Pasadena. The Crown of the Valley threw open all her doors to her guests, and manifested a munificent hospitality. The visitors were taken to all coignes of vantage and the beautiful San Gabriel valley was spread before their eyes in all its many attractions. The day was a charming one, and as our visitors come to realize that there will be little change of a meteorological nature in this section until near the turn of the year, the impression will grow on their minds that we have something to boast of in our glorious climate. To-day a pilgrimage will be made to Santa Monica. The league-long rollers of the Pacific will be seen by many for the first time, and, perhaps, they will take a dip in its mystic waves. It may be interesting for the visitors to reflect that had they come here in February next the tepid semi-tropic waters would be as warm as they are to-day. The Soldiers' Home will be an interesting place for the visitors to see. The HERALD wishes our guests continual joy in all their pilgrimages.

MR. CLEVELAND states the definite position of the Democratic party on tariff with regard to the protection of the workingman and shows that the Democratic party is entirely friendly to the manufacturer in giving him free raw materials. Harrison's letter, on the contrary, undertakes most improperly to show what the Democratic policy is, and misrepresents the meaning of the Mills bill, and takes the position of a scold who puts an opponent in a false position, and then lectures him about it.

MR. BLAINE is intensely interested in keeping up rates of wages for American laborers. That is why he is so opposed to free trade. That is why Millionaire Carnegie loves him so. That is why when the Greatest Statesman returned from Europe, it required thirty-two trunks and ten bags to carry his supply of clothes made by the cheap pauper labor of England.

GENERAL HARRISON is said to be getting awfully tired of all the hand-shaking he has to undergo. Our head against an apple that Mr. Harrison's arm stands the shaking better than his ear endures all the hurrahing for Blaine.

Los Angeles a Really Model City.

Readers of our esteemed contemporaries living at a distance should not get the idea that there are no schools and no police force in Los Angeles. Neither should they allow their minds to be misled into the thought that the city is in need of a vigilance committee. One of our esteemed contemporaries has discovered the fact that our city schools are afflicted with "dry rot," and the same able editor talks of forming a committee of one hundred to take charge of police matters. We all have heard of the drunkard who misconceived the condition of the lamp posts, and insisted that they were all staggering. The disease in the present instance is in the billious condition of our esteemed contemporary's blood. We need more school room to keep pace with the great growth of the city. The room will be forthcoming soon. There are a number of disreputable characters in the city. There always are in a place of 90,000 inhabitants. We shall be most pleased to learn that the last vagrant has left Los Angeles. Some of us have been waiting long for the coming of the millennium. Let us still hope it will get here. Let us all do whatever of a practical nature there is to do in order to hasten the good epoch when a large city shall be found in which there is no longer any need of law, or limbs of the law. We will all go there at once: and if it is Los Angeles which can be brought to such a paradisaic State, then there will indeed be a boom and corner lots will sell for as many silver dollars as can be piled on them. But in the meantime our dear contemporaries' proposition to have a vigilance committee is "rot" which has not yet had time to dry. It is the freshest and rottenest rot of the season. Los Angeles is very much above the average of cities of its size in the matter of law and order. It may be maintained in proof of this that while the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows has been in session, an occasion when 60,0000 people are estimated to have been afloat here there has not been a bit of disturbance. The police affairs have been splendidly administered, and hardly a case of disorderly conduct has been developed. Of course our guests this week are of the very salt of the earth, but such a crowd of people always draws together all sorts of camp followers who have no connection with the main army. But in spite of all this the 90,000 inhabitants of this fair city and her thousands of visitors have all comported themselves in perfectly good order. People intending to come here are assured that their children will be able to find good schools, and that quiet people will be perfectly safe in their lives, persons and property.

A Trust Well Kept.

Mr. Cleveland's epigram, "Public office is a public trust," is a good one; and Los Angeles county has three officials at least who have well kept the trust reposed in them. If ever a people had officials who faithfully served their constituents we have them in the person of two members of the Board of Supervisors and in the member of the Board of Equalization who sits for this district. For two years the property of this county has been assessed away above its level, as judged by the valuations put on that of other counties in the State. Both last year and this the erroneous value set on our realty by the zeal of the Assessor has been, in a very great degree, rectified, and the people saved in each year some $60,000 of actual money in the lowering of the taxes by a reduction of ten per cent. As Mr. Rowan puts it, every tax-payer has been able to pay each dollar of his burden with ninety cents in cash.

Elsewhere in the HERALD of to-day will be found an interview with two of the gentlemen who have been so largely instrumental in obtaining this great measure of relief. It will be seen how modestly and moderately these faithful officials speak of their great services to the people. It is easy enough to tell the story, but few know what it cost to bring about such happy results. We know for a fact that in both instances where this reduction of taxes has been brought about, that T. E. Rowan and J. W. Venable have been obliged to go to the State capital, to remain there for days at a time, to make a hard, careful, disagreeable fight, often somewhat personal and acrimonious in its nature in order to get this done. We know that in these instances these gentlemen have neglected important private business, and that they have suffered severely not only in the loss of comfort, and in their feelings; but also in their personal interests and in their purses. And we are not only indebted to these devoted public servants for their sacrifices and for the energy they have displayed on our behalf; but there is this to remember, that the fight was won not alone by strenuous efforts and at the cost of time and money, but that it required the rarest tact and the ripest wisdom to accomplish the really substantial results of ten per cent. reduction twice over, when in one instance ours was the only county reduced at all, and in the other almost the only one. While others might be willing to make the attempt if placed in the same position of trust, who else but men possessed of the experience, knowledge and tact of these could have succeeded? They are both loaded with telling facts about our county, and Mr. Rowan's tongue is not in every one's mouth who might try to set forth the facts.

And while so much is due to the Messrs. Rowan and Venable on this head, we must not forget to recall the really loyal and most efficient service rendered to all his constituents in this district by John T. Gaffey, our member in the State Board. Mr. Gaffey has stood by the interests of his section manfully. But for his aid the efforts of our Supervisors would have been hopeless of results. He stood a year ago against very heavy opposition to our interests, and this year the strain was barely less heavy. Mr. Gaffey states that Mr. Sloss, of San Francisco, treated our petitions with great fairness, and this year Mr. Dunn joined with the member from San Francisco to secure us relief.

There is but one way to reward such services as are here referred too, and that is by showing our appreciation of them by continuing these who render them in office. Mr. Rowan and Mr. Venable are again before the people of this county. If the electors do not remember what they have done, then the county is not worthy of such servants.

The Campaign of Thought.

The current campaign is to be known in the history of American politics as the campaign of thought. Whatever may be the immediate outcome of it, the ultimate result will greatly redound to the credit of the Democratic party. It was the Tariff message of President Cleveland which at last buried the gory garment, and recalled his countrymen to a living issue. It was the firm adherence of the St. Louis Convention to the principles of reform formulated by the President that put personalities and sentiment out of the question. It was the honest expressions of the President's letter of acceptance which held the campaign down to realities and up to a high plane of thought and principle.

The campaign will not redound to the credit of the Republican party. They have no where met the issue squarely. Instead of discussing broad principles on the plane of fact and logic they have persistently tried to misrepresent our position. They have at all points declined to meet us in debate and discuss the issues of the campaign. Mr. Blaine made a bluff about meeting Mr. Carlisle, and all the brainless fugleman of the Greatest Statesman in the land went wild in their delight at the prospect of the intellectual battle. But lo, Mr. Blaine did not intend to do as he proposed. He crawfished. Congressman Tarnsey, of Michigan, sends a challenge to his Republican antagonist to meet him in joint debate in their district, but the Republican prefers to get off by himself where he can howl free trade and not be interrupted. He ignominiously declines the challenge. So it goes all over the Union, even to our own county, where each and every proposition for a joint debate is declined by those who represent the great party of all intelligence. In a joint debate lies can be nailed, and proofs demanded. That is what the war tax advocates who serve the grinding monopolies dare not encounter. The party of all intelligence throws up the sponge in a most disgraceful manner.

Which Is Right?

General Harrison and Mr. Blaine differ widely in their views on trusts. Mr. Blaine, in his Portland speech, said that President Cleveland or nobody else had the right to interfere with combinations of capital. Trusts, he said, were private enterprises, and as such should be fostered instead of restricted.

In his letter of acceptance General Harrison thus speaks of trusts:

The declaration of the Convention against "all combinations of capital, organized in trusts or otherwise, to control arbitrarily the condition of trade among our citizens," is in harmony with the views entertained and publicly expressed by me long before the assembling of the Convention. Ordinarily capital shares the losses of idleness with labor, but under the operation of the trust in some of its forms the wage-worker alone suffers loss, while idle capital receives its dividends from a Trust fund. Producers who refuse to join the combination are destroyed and competition as an element of prices is eliminated. It cannot be doubted that the legislative authority should and will find a method of dealing fairly and effectively with these and other abuses connected with this subject.

How would it do to have a joint debate on trusts between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Harrison? It might develop the harmony of the party.

Let This Nonsense Stop.

There is not a little indignation already aroused in the public mind because of the disgraceful squabble which a few bitter-minded men are keeping up on the police question, and this feeling is rapidly growing to a head. The Mayor has said that there is nothing in the testimony before him to implicate the Chief of Police. The Express has stated that the testimony offered is worthless for the purposes aimed at. All reasonable people know that no proof of wrong doing has been adduced against Mr. Cuddy. His worst enemies have reduced their charges against him to the most puerile and childish of trifles. Now the interests of the city are being most disgracefully neglected, and the efficiency of the police force is put in jeopardy by the wanton and malignant personal enemies of the Chief. The wiser people are tired of it, and inasmuch as a majority of the Council is Democratic the party will be to blame. In view of these facts there are angry murmurings heard in the party which will culminate in an indignation meeting in which the foolish leaders of this movement will be handled without gloves.

OVERLOOKING the fact that the law authorizing foreign labor contracts was of Republican origin and the act prohibiting them of Democratic origin, Mr. Harrison in his letter claims credit for supporting the existing statute, and says that he would advocate such amendments as might prove necessary. But he says that legislation prohibiting the importation of laborers under contract would amount to little except for the system of protective duties on merchandise. Now, the only legitimate object of protective tariff is to protect labor; and, of course, this kind of protection for labor must protect against the importation of cheap foreign labor itself. It is useless to keep out the goods if we let in the men who make them at pauper labor rates.

Waiter (to gentleman who has just tipped him)—"Excuse me, sir, but do you know that is a twenty-cent piece." Gentleman (putting it back in his pocket)—"Why, no; I took it for a quarter. But it's all right; I know where I got it."—[Epoch.

In Memoriam.

There were few dry eyes at the obsequies at Dr. W. J. Chichester's new home yesterday afternoon, when the earthly remains of his beloved wife were being closed to the view of her large circle of newly-acquired friends. The bride of three months ago was there surrounded by those who had welcomed her, full of bloom and promise and radiant with the joys of a new life, to her distant Pacific home. She had come like Ruth, to follow her Boaz where love and duty called. She had come, full of the instinctive fires of duty, to do all that had been allotted to her. A pure child, matured in the responsibilities of her new womanhood, she had taken upon herself the great duties pertaining to a practical Christian life. Hardly had she stepped upon the threshold of those duties, and with the surroundings of a devoted husband and friends who loved her for her self-evident tenderness of heart and manifest beauties of disposition, than the all-visiting destroyer, Death, came to her in inexorable guise. She laid herself down before his awful terrors in that peaceful and quiet submission which our American poet likens to he who, with smile and beam of eye, wraps his mantle around him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

To this fair, but gone-from-us being, past, but with us, assembled the stricken friends yesterday afternoon. Around her untenanted form they dropped the hot tears of sorrow. Above her lifeless case eloquent ministers discoursed of her virtues and the sad fate that had so soon taken from Israel a shining mark. Beside her wept those to whom she was, in the flesh, a stranger, but to whom her sad taking-off had made nature's wells o'erflow their tearful streams. The old were stricken with grief that youth so full of promise had been cut down before the ear was ripe; the middle-aged had sorrow in their eye that one on whom so much depended had prematurely gone; the young, with embittered thought, wondered why she, so loved, so ambitious, in the springtime of her womanhood, should be selected for that keen dart's envious flight, which ends all here. But amongst that sorrow-stricken and tearful throng there went up the crying and availing prayer for the one so prostrate, so dejected, so lost in the misery of the hour, that he must have felt like Jeremiah when he said: "Why is my pain perpetual and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed?" But there is a cure in the Word. Deep, sharp and lancinating is the affliction of his present wound. Dark is now the day, and full of hopelessness his woes are to him. But he has always taught consolation to others—has always felt like the poet, that to him who has not bereft himself of hope "the darkest hour is just before the day." His prayer now may be, "Remove thy stroke away from me; I am consumed by thine hand." But when the darkness of his present affliction shall be lighted by a far-lingering star of hope, he will say: "Thou which hast showed me great and sore troubles shalt quicken me again, and shall bring me up again from the depths of the dark." To him, the sorrow-stricken who is yet with us in the flesh, he sent out the word of consolation, that what comes we must bear, that manhood and Christianity both inculcate if we meet thorns we must suffer like men, and if it be roses that touch us with the beauty of their fragrance we shall be glad that we may know that life's pathway cannot always be strewn with thorns. ## Exclusion and Retaliation Bill.

THE PROGRESS MADE BY EACH.

Delay of Transmitting the Former to the President for His Signature.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

WASHINGTON, September 19, 1 P. M.—The Chinese bill has already passed from the custody of the Senate, and is in that of the House, ready to go to the President.

The Retaliation bill was considered briefly by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and referred to a subcommittee, consisting of Senators Sherman, Evarts and Morgan. It is considered probable that no immediate action will be taken on the measure.

THE DELAY RESOLUTION.

Its Purpose Reported Ineffective. Another Obstacle Met.

WASHINGTON, September 19.—The resolution reported by Edmunds this morning, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, instructing the President of the Senate to withhold, until the further direction of the Senate, transmission to the House of the Chinese Restriction bill, has not effected its purpose. The passage of the measure was duly announced to the House when the motion to reconsider was defeated. The act was then enrolled, signed by the Speaker and yesterday about 5 o'clock, signed by the President of the Senate. The clerk of the Committee on Enrolled Bills took it over to the House last night, but that body had adjourned and there was no one to receive it, so it remained in the custody of the Senate Committee over night, and was actually in the possession of the Senate when the resolution of the Foreign Relations Committee was reported. The rules of the Senate at first reading seem to provide that the defeat of a motion to reconsider shall be the final disposition, so far as the jurisdiction of the Senate is concerned, of any pending question, though upon this point there is room for a slight difference of opinion. Senator Bowen, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Enrolled Bills, after a careful examination of the rules, held that the announcement of the passage of the bill was a virtual surrender of its custody, and he took the responsibility of permitting his clerk to proceed in the discharge of his duty as usual. Thereupon, at a quarter before one o'clock to-day, the enrolled bill, duly signed and ready for transmission to the President, was delivered to the proper officers of the House.

TRANSMISSION STILL OBSTRUCTED.

WASHINGTON, September 19.—Later—The Chinese restriction bill seems to have met another obstacle. Representative Kilgore, Acting Chairman of the House Committee on Enrolled Bills, whose duty it will be to carry the bill to the President, has decided to hold it back as an act of courtesy to the Senate, to give opportunity for action on the resolution of the Foreign Relations Committee.

THE SENATE.

An Order to Delay the Signing of the Chinese Bill.

WASHINGTON, September 19.—In the Senate to-day Edmunds reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations the following order: It is ordered that the President of the Senate be directed to withhold transmission to the House of the Representatives, of the act (House bill) to prohibit the coming of Chinese laborers to the United States, until the further direction of the Senate.

He asked for immediate consideration. Teller objected to prevent consideration, and the order went over till to-morrow. Vest inquired of the presiding officer what the affect of non-action on the proposed order would be. No response was made.

Edmunds also offered a joint resolution appropriating $100,000 to be expended under the direction of the President of the United States, in relief of the suffering caused by yellow fever in Florida, and asked for immediate consideration. He pointed out that the money appropriated for the purpose of preventing the spread of the epidemic could not be used as a relief fund. The resolution was passed.

Sherman's resolution, as to Canadian affairs, was, at the request of Morgan, postponed till to-morrow.

SURPLUS AND TARIFF ROBBERY.

Jones, of Arkansas, proceeded to address the Senate on a motion to refer the President's annual message, and discussed from a Democratic standpoint the questions of the surplus and the protective tariff, which he declared was a system of naked robbery.

Stewart next addressed the Senate, expressing views directly opposite to those put forward by Jones, and declaring that the existing stagnation and depression of prices did not result from the tariff, but from the demonetization of silver.

BILLS PASSED.

A number of bills were taken from the calendar and passed, among them the following: House bill to amend the River and Harbor Appropriation bill of 1884 in relation to the use of St. Mary's Falls and other canals. House bill granting to the Duluth and Winnipeg Railway Company the right-of-way through Fond Du Lac Indian reservation, Minnesota; amended so as to give similar rights across the Umatilla Indian reservation in Oregon to the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, and also so as to increase beyond 12,000 acres the extent of Umatilla reservation, to be reserved after allotments in severalty. The Senate bill to accept and ratify the agreement of the 14th of May, 1880, submitted by the Shoshones, Bannocks and Sheep Eaters, of Fort Hall and Lembi reservations in Idaho. Adjourned.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, September 19. — The House resumed consideration of the conference report on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill.

Holman, of Indiana, opposed the adoption of the report.

Kerr, of Iowa, said that if Congress had been deceived by the architect in the matter of estimates for the new Library building, it should not be in favor of voting another dollar to be spent under the supervision of that architect.

Adams, of Illinois, opposed the conference report, although he expressed his willingness to vote $10,000,000 to erect a suitable building for the library.

The vote on agreeing to the conference report resulted, yeas 67, nays 77. No quorum and the House adjourned.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 18.—The elevator in the Bancroft Building, Market street, fell from the fifth floor to the basement to-day. Ten people were in the car at the time. The accident was caused by the cable breaking. The car shot to the bottom of the shaft and was demolished. The next instant the heavy cable came crashing down on the top of the wreck and added to the destruction. All of the passengers were more or less injured, several very severely. Following are the names of the injured:

W. O. Clymo, one leg broken.

Robert Crichery, both ankles broken.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT ODD FELLOW.

Judge John D. Frere, Superior Judge of Sutter county, who for some time past has been lying seriously ill here, died to-day at Haywards of hemorrhage of the lnngs. He was one of the leading members of the organization of Odd Fellows on this coast, and was repeatedly summoned by the Grand Lodge of the State to represent it in the national body. Three months ago he was elected to the Sovereign Grand Lodge now in session in Los Angeles.

The reported sale of the Lick House property, this city, to Senator James G. Fair, for a million and a quarter, has been confirmed by statements of the Lick trustees. It is learned that of this amount $889,519 will be equally divided between the Society of California Pioneers and the Academy of Sciences, while the remainder will be expended in completing free public baths and other works for which bequests were made.

The railroad officials have received information that a heavy rain storm, like a cloudburst, passed over Northern Utah last night. The rain poured down in the cañons and cuts west of Ogden and a number of washouts occurred. The track was repaired this morning, but trains will be delayed several hours. There were also heavy rains in Arizona, but no disasters to the track are reported.

When asked to-day as to what was Sheriff McMann's position in regard to Father Fassonnoti's statement that Goldenson had given him a capsule containing poison, before his execution, Under-Sheriff O'Connor said Sheriff McMann, before leaving the city, told him that he had received no such poison, and authorized him to deny the story that he had received it.

William A. Bissell, the newly appointed General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Atlantic and Pacific, returned from the East to-day and this question was asked him:

"Do you not think your people are behind in the survey now being made from Stockton to Sacramento?"

"No more than I am in my individual capacity, was the reply. The Company has nothing to do with it."

The Council of Federated Trades at a meeting to-day indited a letter to President Cleveland asking that he would not interpose executive clemency in the case of Adolph Hinz, who some weeks ago pleaded guilty to partnership with Boyd and Ciprico in fraudulent Chinese certificate dealings, and who afterwards sought escape ot sentence by procuring a pardon from the President. One of his pleas was that he was ignorant of the English language. The Council forwards a letter written in good English by Hinz, as Secretary of the Beer Brewer's Protective Association, in which he threatens the boycott of a dealer in bock beer. The Council also sent a letter to Postmaster-General Dickinson, protesting against the granting of a subsidy to the Oceanic Steamship Company for carrying mails between the United States and Honolulu, unless they agree to employ no Chinese on the vessels.

The United States survey steamer Hassler, Lieutenant H. B. Mansfield, United States Navy, commanding, arrived in port to-day from a surveying trip along the northern Coast of California.

Leung Bock Heong was stabbed and killed by some unknown assailant in Chinatown to-night. The police were notified of the murder by Tin Tock, foreman of a gang of Chinese laborers, who stated that he had paid Heong and several others $90 each during the day for work. Several Chinamen occupying a building said they heard a struggle, and heard Heong exclaim that he was being robbed. The police arrested a number of Chinese on suspicion.

To-day when the customs officers attempted to keep the Chinese from going on board the steamer City of Rio de Janeiro they stampeded, but were driven back by the officers. The Chinese then drew knifes and were about to make an attack when several policemen appeared and quelled the riot.

TRANSCONTINENTAL RATES.

Chairman Leeds Called to Account by Chairman Midgely.

CHICAGO, September 19.—Chairman Midgely, on behalf of the Missouri river lines, wrote to-day to Chairman Leeds, of the Transcontinental Association, calling his attention to the fact that at a recent conference in this city it was positively agreed that revised rates from Chicago should be made on the entire list of the one hundred articles under consideration. Midgely takes the position that Leeds had no right to curtail that list, but that his only duty in the premises was to publish the list as it stood. The Chicago shippers who meet to-morrow will, there seems no doubt, take steps to bring the matter before the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

ARMY OF THE CUMBERLAND.

Speeches were also made by Theodore Hollam and M. D. Gray.

CRESCENT BEACH, Mass., September 19.—A reporter called at the residence of John L. Sullivan this afternoon, and was informed that Sullivan's condition at present was particularly alarming. No immediate danger was apprehended.

BOSTON, September 19.—The Globe says: The report circulated about town this afternoon to the effect that John L. Sullivan had suddenly passed away at Crescent Beach, is without the least foundation.

LUCE AND THE NAVY.

He Thinks We Should Have Improved Inland Waterways.

BALTIMORE, September 19.—Rear-Admiral Luce, of the United States Navy, and commandant of the North-Atlantic squadron, passed through Baltimore this morning for New York. The Admiral was brimful of enthusiasm over his trip through the inland waterways from New York to Norfolk in his diminutive steam launch, Vixen. He said to a Sun reporter: "If ours were a military government like England, Russia, Germany or France, we would have had a system of inland navigation years ago. Foreign nations are more alive to our needs and our defects than we are. The need of an inland system of canals and waterways is undoubted.

He thinks the Erie canal should be widened and deepened, as also should be the Delaware and Raritan and Chesapeake and Delaware, and his trip is being made for the purpose of gathering facts and figures for a report which he proposes to lay before Congress.

"Because there is no war in sight," he said, "is no reason why we should not have a thoroughly equipped navy and a perfect system of inland navigation, which in the case of necessity would be an immense saving af time in the transportation of war ships, men and ammunition."

The Admiral believes in improving the merchant marine service, and suggests the offering of bounties in some form for building steamers.

OHIO CENTENNIAL.

Judge Thurman Presides at the Lawyer's Meeting.

COLUMBUS, September 19. — At the Ohio Centennial to-day was Lawyers' day and the members of the bar were out in full force. A meeting was held in the auditorium, presided over by Judge Allen G. Thurman. Letters of regret were received from Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller and Benj. Harrison. Judge Follet was temporary chairman, and introduced Judge Thurman, who was greeted with hearty applause. After stating that he had prepared no regular address, he spoke at length, devoting himself largely to interesting reminiscences of public men, especially to those lawyers who were prominent in the early years of the century just ended.

Wire Waifs.

During a fire at Spokane Falls, Tuesday, many people in boarding houses had great difficulty in escaping with their lives. One woman was burned to death.

Three or four cases of smallpox were reported at McMannville, Ogn., a few days ago, and specials say business is almost suspended and the town almost depopulated.

At Walla Walla the body of Edward Young was found in a house formerly occupied by a Chinese opium den. He had been missed for some days. The Chinese had all left the house, but the remains showed no acts of violence. It is supposed he died from smoking too much opium. He was the son of an Episcopal minister in England.

Monday night Patrick Carmody, Desideria Jajola and Ronaldo Gonzales, three prisoners under sentence of death for the murder of William Wiggins, escaped from Socorro, N. M., county jail. The three men were confined in the same cell. Their escape was effected by filing the bars and then digging through the wall.

A fatal shooting occurred at Tybo, Nev., last Friday. M. M. Donahue fired three shots at James Butler; one of the balls penetrated Butler's coat and the powder set fire to his clothing. Another shot struck Louis Benson in the left arm. Butler then drew a revolver and fired at Donahue, shooting him in the head, breast and abdomen and killing him instantly. Butler came to Belmont Wednesday morning, and surrendered himself to the Sheriff.

Miss Mac Favish and mother left for Europe early in the spring and are still abroad. During their stay at London they were the guests of the Duke of Norfolk, one of the wealthiest noblemen in England.

A motion was argued on Tuesday in Supreme Court Chambers in New York city to have Elijah Smith, President of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, W. Smith, its Treasurer, Sidney Dillon and John H. Hall, defendants in the suit of Brayton Ives, punished for contempt of ocurt in continuing the building of branch lines and a bridge over the Snake river, and for transferring $1,200,000 from the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, despite an injunction issued by the Supreme Court. Judge Barrett decided that the order of injunction could not prevent the construction of branch lines, and decided to appoint a Referee to consider the question of contempt in the disposition of the money.

All who are BALD, all who are becoming BALD, all who do not want to be BALD, all who are troubled with DANDRUFF or ITCHING of the scalp, should use Benton's Hair Grower. EIGHTY PER CENT of those using it have grown hair. It never fails to stop the hair from falling. Through sickness and fevers the hair sometimes falls off in a short time, and though the person may have remained bald for years, if you use Benton's Hair Grower according to directions you are sure of a growth of hair. In hundreds of cases we have procured a good growth of hair on those who have been all and glazed for years. We have fully substantiated the following facts:

We grow hair in every case, no matter how long bald.

Unlike other preparations, it contains no sugar of lead, or vegetable or mineral poisons.

It is a specific for falling hair, dandruff and itching of the scalp.

The Hair Grower is a hair food, and its composition is almost exactly like the oil which supplies the hair with its vitality.

If your druggists have not got it, we will send it prepaid on receipt of price, $1.00.

TO TAXPAYERS.

A Scrap of History for the Past Two Years.

LOS ANGELES CO. ASSESSMENTS.

How Mr. Mason's Valuations Have Been Reduced by the State Board of Equalization.

THE HERALD has given from time to time during the past two years disconnected statements as to how the county assessment was reduced by the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento. These accounts have referred more particularly to the history of 1877. The reduction of ten per cent. for 1888 has just been made and therefore but little has been said about it. It is a matter in which tax-payers are most concerned, and, therefore, learning that Mr. Gaffey, the member of the State Board from the District of Southern California, was in town, the HERALD reporter took occasion to interview him, and also Mr. T. E. Rowan. The results are herewith submitted. They will prove interesting reading:

THE INTERVIEW WITH MR. GAFFEY.

Mr. Gaffey, said the reporter, the HERALD received a telegram from you the other day setting forth that the assessment of the county had been reduced ten per cent. again. Will you tell me a little more in detail about the work done in our behalf before the State Board during the past two years?

In reply Mr. Gaffey said: "The total assessment of Los Angeles county in 1887, exclusive of railroads, was $97,000,000, Of this about $76,000,000 was on real estate.

The Board of Supervisors, represented by its Chairman, Mr. T. E. Rowan, and Supervisor Venable, came before the State Board and asked for a reduction of twenty per cent. Mr. Sloss, the member of the State Board from San Francisco, had visited the county with me and had become convinced that the Assessor had taken the boom prices as the basis of his assessment. Mr. Dunn, partly from his own knowledge and convinced very largely I believe by the clear and convincing statements of Messrs. Rowan and Venable, voted with Mr. Sloss and myself and we got a reduction of 10 per cent. No other counties were reduced in '87 although I tried to get a reduction for the counties of San Diego, Santa Barbara, Ventura and San Bernardino believing that the assessors of all those counties had taken the boom as the basis of the assessment. San Diego and Los Angeles, however, were the counties that needed reduction most."

"What do you mean by boom prices?"

"The revenue law of California requires all property to be assessed at its full cash value, and the State courts have defined cash value to mean what the property would be taken for for a just debt from a solvent debtor. You can fix the values of land for ordinary purposes by two things, either the selling prices or the producing capacity of the property. Of course, during ordinary times, the producing capacity fixes the selling price but in a county where a boom exists the producing capacity is entirely lost sight of, as ninety per cent. of the purchases are made for speculative purposes. "If you will now consider that in Northern California, where, excepting in a few isolated cases, no boom exists or has existed for many years most of the sales are necessarily based on the producing capacity, while in Southern California a full-fledged boom has existed for the past five years and nearly all of the sales have been speculative ones, you will readily see that comparison of sales with assessments in Northern California might show an assessment of 90 per cent., while the same comparison in the Southern counties might only show 60 per cent., yet the latter assessment might be higher than the former because based on boom prices, which in many cases were four or even five times greater than the producing capacity of the property would justify.

What part of State taxes do we pay?

In 1887 sixty-four per cent of the total increase in the State was in the four southern counties, and if you add in San Francisco, five counties of the state contributed seventy-five per cent of the total increase.

In 1888, out of the total increase in the State, the counties of Los Angeles, Fresno, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, San Diego, Tulare and Kern with a total property valuation of about $259,000,000 contributed fifty per cent. of the total increase in the State. That is to say the seven southern counties containing less than one-fourth of all the property in the State contributed one-half of all the increase for the year 1888.

"It would be a safe estimate to say that in those counties eighty per cent. of the increase has been in real estate values, proving very conclusively that the assessors of those counties had taken the boom prices as the basis for making their assessment."

"Do you mean that our boom is unreal?"

"I do not wish to be taken for a pessimist as to the future of Southern California, for I believe it to be not only the garden-spot of California, but the choicest place on earth. The trouble is that people went wild over speculations, and the development of our agricultural and mineral resources has not kept pace with the raise in land values. The future, however, I believe will justify the foresight and enterprise of those who have invested here."

"What should assessors do?"

"For the present, in counties where a boom exists the Assessors should be careful, and make a conservative assessment, and should not be led away by any wild craze which may exist in their counties. The assessment should be based not on what some wild-cat speculator would be willing to give for property—but what a good business man would take the property for a just debt from a solvent debtor—"The Boards of Supervisors should carefully examine the roll and endeavor to correct any injustice done and if they take the same pains to put their case before the State Board, as Tom Rowan and Mr. Venable did, the injustice, if any exists, will be corrected.

What other counties were reduced?

In the cases of Santa Clara and Fresno, which were each reduced 10 per cent., it was the belief of a majority of the State Board of Equalization that the Assessors had been carried away by the real-estate craze and had assessed their counties higher than the remaining counties of the State.

"Of course you will understand that in any views I may express on the matter or manner of assessing I speak only for myself, and the remaining members might differ very widely from me."

This year I had very little hope of getting a reduction for this county, and had almost abandoned the idea, but the masterly manner in which Rowan presented the case of the county convinced a majority of the Board that the reduction was necessary, and we got it.

WHAT MR. ROWAN SAYS.

Following him up, the reporter found Mr. Rowan in his office, and explaining what he was doing, asked the President of the Board of Supervisors what he knew about getting assessments reduced.

The interview opened thus: "Mr. Rowan," said the HERALD reporter, "the dispatches have announced that the State Board of Equalization has reduced Los Angeles county ten per cent. As you represented the county at Sacramento, and as our citizens all take a great interest in the matter, will you kindly explain what effect the reduction will have on the county?"

"I had hoped," said Mr. Rowan, "that for this year at least I had got through with any further discussion of assessments, but any information I can convey to you on the subject I will be pleased to give. The immediate effect on the county will be a reduction of ten per cent on everything except money and solvent credits. That is to say the owners of all other classes of property excepting money and solvent credits will now pay ninety cents in State taxes where they would have to pay a dollar without the reduction.

"The assessment of 1888 placed the taxable property of Los Angeles County subject to reduction, at $110,008,000. The reduction will leave it at $99,007,120 to which must be added money and solvent credits and railroad assessments or in all about $103,000,000, and result in saving to the county the net sum of $56,000. When the assessment roll was turned over to the Board of Supervisors we found, after a close examination, that the solid business and agricultural property of the county had been assessed on the basis of the boom prices to which speculators had brought imaginary town sites, etc. The revenue law of California does not allow the County Supervisors, sitting as a Board of Equalization, to lower the county as a whole, and we could consequently only deal with individual cases of inequality. The time of the Board was limited and the evil general and widespread, so that, after consultation, we decided that we would rectify as far as lay in our power the inequalities between individual taxpayers and make a fight before the State Board of Equalization for a general reduction of twenty per cent.

"The fight for reduction was a long and bitter one. Contra Costa county was the only county that had ever been reduced and the policy and traditions of the Sacramento equalizers seemed to be all opposed to a reduction of any kind, no matter how glaring the injustice. Their idea of equalization seems to be to raise all the time, without any idea of equalizing the inequalities existing between the different counties of the State. Their mode of collecting data is simply ridiculous, as it seems to be left to the whim or prejudice of each member as to how, where and when he shall collect it. And it really seems to me that the first thing the Legislature of California ought to turn its attention to is to equalize the State Board of Equalization by either wiping it out of existence or prescribing some positive rules for collecting the data by which a county shall be judged. As it is now constituted it is like a bull in a china shop.

Information seems to be sought after the manner of detectives and examinations which should be characterized by the formality and dignity of a high court of justice are carried on more like the proceeding of a second-class police court.

"I speak plainly and I will admit with feeling on this subject," said Mr. Rowan, "as I was compelled to tell Mr. Moorehouse this year in open Board that the people of Southern California expected nothing from him as his bias and prejudice against us was too apparent.

But you got what you went after?

Yes in 1887 Mr. Venable and myself appeared before the State Board and we got a reduction of ten per cent. by which the county was benefited about $65,000 in State taxes.

In 1888 Mr. Mason made a more equal assessment, but still too high, and we were again forced to throw ourselves on the mercy of the "Northern Citrus Belt," as Southern California has only one member on the Board of Equalization and thank God we got relief. The Assessor, Mr. Mason, encountered great difficulty in 1887 because of the sudden increase in values and also because of the many resubdivisions of land, which caused the unknown owner list to increase to an enormous extent, viz: many thousands; and our difficulties in equalizing were increased accordingly.

A Scrap of History for the Past Two Years.

LOS ANGELES CO. ASSESSMENTS.

How Mr. Mason's Valuations Have Been Reduced by the State Board of Equalization.

THE HERALD has given from time to time during the past two years disconnected statements as to how the county assessment was reduced by the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento. These accounts have referred more particularly to the history of 1877. The reduction of ten per cent. for 1888 has just been made and therefore but little has been said about it. It is a matter in which tax-payers are most concerned, and, therefore, learning that Mr. Gaffey, the member of the State Board from the District of Southern California, was in town, the HERALD reporter took occasion to interview him, and also Mr. T. E. Rowan. The results are herewith submitted. They will prove interesting reading:

THE INTERVIEW WITH MR. GAFFEY.

Mr. Gaffey, said the reporter, the HERALD received a telegram from you the other day setting forth that the assessment of the county had been reduced ten per cent. again. Will you tell me a little more in detail about the work done in our behalf before the State Board during the past two years?

In reply Mr. Gaffey said: "The total assessment of Los Angeles county in 1887, exclusive of railroads, was $97,000,000, Of this about $76,000,000 was on real estate.

The Board of Supervisors, represented by its Chairman, Mr. T. E. Rowan, and Supervisor Venable, came before the State Board and asked for a reduction of twenty per cent. Mr. Sloss, the member of the State Board from San Francisco, had visited the county with me and had become convinced that the Assessor had taken the boom prices as the basis of his assessment. Mr. Dunn, partly from his own knowledge and convinced very largely I believe by the clear and convincing statements of Messrs. Rowan and Venable, voted with Mr. Sloss and myself and we got a reduction of 10 per cent. No other counties were reduced in '87 although I tried to get a reduction for the counties of San Diego, Santa Barbara, Ventura and San Bernardino believing that the assessors of all those counties had taken the boom as the basis of the assessment. San Diego and Los Angeles, however, were the counties that needed reduction most."

"What do you mean by boom prices?"

"The revenue law of California requires all property to be assessed at its full cash value, and the State courts have defined cash value to mean what the property would be taken for for a just debt from a solvent debtor. You can fix the values of land for ordinary purposes by two things, either the selling prices or the producing capacity of the property. Of course, during ordinary times, the producing capacity fixes the selling price but in a county where a boom exists the producing capacity is entirely lost sight of, as ninety per cent. of the purchases are made for speculative purposes. "If you will now consider that in Northern California, where, excepting in a few isolated cases, no boom exists or has existed for many years most of the sales are necessarily based on the producing capacity, while in Southern California a full-fledged boom has existed for the past five years and nearly all of the sales have been speculative ones, you will readily see that comparison of sales with assessments in Northern California might show an assessment of 90 per cent., while the same comparison in the Southern counties might only show 60 per cent., yet the latter assessment might be higher than the former because based on boom prices, which in many cases were four or even five times greater than the producing capacity of the property would justify.

What part of State taxes do we pay?

In 1887 sixty-four per cent of the total increase in the State was in the four southern counties, and if you add in San Francisco, five counties of the state contributed seventy-five per cent of the total increase.

In 1888, out of the total increase in the State, the counties of Los Angeles, Fresno, Santa Barbara, San Bernardino, San Diego, Tulare and Kern with a total property valuation of about $259,000,000 contributed fifty per cent. of the total increase in the State. That is to say the seven southern counties containing less than one-fourth of all the property in the State contributed one-half of all the increase for the year 1888.

"It would be a safe estimate to say that in those counties eighty per cent. of the increase has been in real estate values, proving very conclusively that the assessors of those counties had taken the boom prices as the basis for making their assessment."

"Do you mean that our boom is unreal?"

"I do not wish to be taken for a pessimist as to the future of Southern California, for I believe it to be not only the garden-spot of California, but the choicest place on earth. The trouble is that people went wild over speculations, and the development of our agricultural and mineral resources has not kept pace with the raise in land values. The future, however, I believe will justify the foresight and enterprise of those who have invested here."

"What should assessors do?"

"For the present, in counties where a boom exists the Assessors should be careful, and make a conservative assessment, and should not be led away by any wild craze which may exist in their counties. The assessment should be based not on what some wild-cat speculator would be willing to give for property—but what a good business man would take the property for a just debt from a solvent debtor—"The Boards of Supervisors should carefully examine the roll and endeavor to correct any injustice done and if they take the same pains to put their case before the State Board, as Tom Rowan and Mr. Venable did, the injustice, if any exists, will be corrected.

What other counties were reduced?

In the cases of Santa Clara and Fresno, which were each reduced 10 per cent., it was the belief of a majority of the State Board of Equalization that the Assessors had been carried away by the real-estate craze and had assessed their counties higher than the remaining counties of the State.

"Of course you will understand that in any views I may express on the matter or manner of assessing I speak only for myself, and the remaining members might differ very widely from me."

This year I had very little hope of getting a reduction for this county, and had almost abandoned the idea, but the masterly manner in which Rowan presented the case of the county convinced a majority of the Board that the reduction was necessary, and we got it.

WHAT MR. ROWAN SAYS.

Following him up, the reporter found Mr. Rowan in his office, and explaining what he was doing, asked the President of the Board of Supervisors what he knew about getting assessments reduced.

The interview opened thus: "Mr. Rowan," said the HERALD reporter, "the dispatches have announced that the State Board of Equalization has reduced Los Angeles county ten per cent. As you represented the county at Sacramento, and as our citizens all take a great interest in the matter, will you kindly explain what effect the reduction will have on the county?"

"I had hoped," said Mr. Rowan, "that for this year at least I had got through with any further discussion of assessments, but any information I can convey to you on the subject I will be pleased to give. The immediate effect on the county will be a reduction of ten per cent on everything except money and solvent credits. That is to say the owners of all other classes of property excepting money and solvent credits will now pay ninety cents in State taxes where they would have to pay a dollar without the reduction.

"The assessment of 1888 placed the taxable property of Los Angeles County subject to reduction, at $110,008,000. The reduction will leave it at $99,007,120 to which must be added money and solvent credits and railroad assessments or in all about $103,000,000, and result in saving to the county the net sum of $56,000. When the assessment roll was turned over to the Board of Supervisors we found, after a close examination, that the solid business and agricultural property of the county had been assessed on the basis of the boom prices to which speculators had brought imaginary town sites, etc. The revenue law of California does not allow the County Supervisors, sitting as a Board of Equalization, to lower the county as a whole, and we could consequently only deal with individual cases of inequality. The time of the Board was limited and the evil general and widespread, so that, after consultation, we decided that we would rectify as far as lay in our power the inequalities between individual taxpayers and make a fight before the State Board of Equalization for a general reduction of twenty per cent.

"The fight for reduction was a long and bitter one. Contra Costa county was the only county that had ever been reduced and the policy and traditions of the Sacramento equalizers seemed to be all opposed to a reduction of any kind, no matter how glaring the injustice. Their idea of equalization seems to be to raise all the time, without any idea of equalizing the inequalities existing between the different counties of the State. Their mode of collecting data is simply ridiculous, as it seems to be left to the whim or prejudice of each member as to how, where and when he shall collect it. And it really seems to me that the first thing the Legislature of California ought to turn its attention to is to equalize the State Board of Equalization by either wiping it out of existence or prescribing some positive rules for collecting the data by which a county shall be judged. As it is now constituted it is like a bull in a china shop.

Information seems to be sought after the manner of detectives and examinations which should be characterized by the formality and dignity of a high court of justice are carried on more like the proceeding of a second-class police court.

"I speak plainly and I will admit with feeling on this subject," said Mr. Rowan, "as I was compelled to tell Mr. Moorehouse this year in open Board that the people of Southern California expected nothing from him as his bias and prejudice against us was too apparent.

But you got what you went after?

Yes in 1887 Mr. Venable and myself appeared before the State Board and we got a reduction of ten per cent. by which the county was benefited about $65,000 in State taxes.

In 1888 Mr. Mason made a more equal assessment, but still too high, and we were again forced to throw ourselves on the mercy of the "Northern Citrus Belt." as Southern California has only one member on the Board of Equalization and thank God we got relief. The Assessor, Mr. Mason, encountered great difficulty in 1887 because of the sudden increase in values and also because of the many resubdivisions of land, which caused the unknown owner list to increase to an enormous extent, viz: many thousands; and our difficulties in equalizing were increased accordingly.

Mr. Cohn's Position.

EDITORS HERALD—Allow me the privilege through the columns of your paper to inform the preachers and the honest people of your city why I left the Council room during the Cuddy trial.

In answer to Mr. Humphreys, I stated that the trial shall go on according to parlimentary rules of a legislative body, and I assured him that the difficulty could be settled in one hour by the watch. The rules I have written out for them, and I hereby enclose a copy. B. COHN.

1. Trial is to examine and weigh evidence upon a charge and determine upon the guilt or innocence of an accused.
2. Legal trial is the competent jurisdiction.
3. Trials must be conducted impartially and in accordance with laws, and fairly.
4. The committee must grant no favors nor illegal privileges, but must give to the accused full scope to defend himself either personally or by counsel. Any restriction is illegal.
5. No matter how guilty any party may be, he must have a fair trial.
6. A trial if illegally conducted is no trial.
7. Any man under trial must be considered innocent until proven guilty.
8. Charges are mere allegations which must be proven, and if not proven he must be declared innocent and cannot be considered otherwise.
9. All doubts or anything prejudicial to the accused is cause for a new trial.

You have come here to see the beauties of the most Beautiful Country of the World, and to breath the bracing air of Southern California. Some of you have come for a "good time with the boys," others with a keen eye to business and to make a study of this phenomenal country. But, whether your presence in the fair "City of the angels" be a mere social visit, or of business character, you are all ready to make a good turn with a small outlay. You can see that Los Angeles' growth is a grand march toward the sea; that the general direction of its rapid growth is identical with the thoroughfares to the Ocean. We predict that ere long Los Angeles will be one solid city to the Ocean. Therefore property well selected in that direction will be a paying investment. Now there is probably not a reader but has from a double eagle to goodly drafts in his inside pocket with the direct purpose of using if he sees something that suits. During the Odd Fellows and friends visit here we will take them free of charge to our beautiful Arlington Heights Tract. See it if you wish, buy if it is a good investment. We have put the prices low, that everybody can buy a fine lot in Southern California and reap the large returns for the investment made. We offer these lots on easy terms of $20 00 cash, balance in two years. Arlington Heights is situated in the path of Los Angeles' grand march to the sea, just outside the city, and on Washington street, the main avenue to the Ocean. It has a fine outlook of the valley and Ocean, and is high, level and sightly. Come and take a ride to Arlington Heights the Grand from
